PLEASE DO SOON A UPDATE OF THE eMWS and eMWDXCC at MMMonVHF Hallo dear User of MMMonVHF. You probably know these services and we would like to take the chance again to spread a result again at FUNKTELEGRAMM and DUBUS in next month... Please do your self the favour and check and update the following services: MWS (MOST WANTED SQUARES) >>> http://www.mmmonvhf.de/emws.php MWDXCC (MOST WANTED DXCC) >>> http://www.mmmonvhf.de/dxcc.php By the way, if you have NO changes at your squares standings, please use the Button "NO CHANGE" and we do recognize that you are still intersting in our MWS inquiry! In order to keep the Most Wanted Data as much current as possible, we will remove your call from these lists if we do not hear anything from you within 3 years...

WSJT MODES
Dear Users of WSJT: I'm looking at some new ideas for future development of the WSJT program, and I need some user input. JT2, JT4, and the "QSO mode" of WSPR have always been considered as experimental additions to WSJT. I learned a lot from their implementation, and I've received some useful feedback from others who have used them. I have mentioned before that they may not become permanent additions to WSJT. My present assessment is these modes are not much being used, and I'm considering removing them from future versions of WSJT. Do I hear any advice to the contrary? ... 73, Joe, K1JT

2M EME WAS
I have compiled my information and put it on my website. Quick and dirty, I am obviously not much of a web designer, but hopefully it is usable. This is just a first cut! While the information was good at the time I worked the stations, I am certain some of it is no longer valid. Some stations may be qrt, some may have moved, some may have improved their stations. I apologize to all the big stations I have left off the list, it was not on purpose. My crude website is:

http://home.comcast.net/~kd3uy/site/Please get back to me OFF LIST. We could clog up the reflector otherwise.
I will update with your comments as quickly as I can. I hope this helps some of you, and I hope some of you can help me make it much better.

JOIN A DIFFERENT KIND OF AMATEUR RADIO COMPETITION
There is no doubt that our time-honored hobby is going through turbulent times with the intake of new hams decreasing in many countries.
The overall Amateur Radio population has diminished dramatically. As an independent body, the group at Radio Arcala, OH8X is poised to try some new methods to attract young people congregating in many non-traditional hangouts such as Virtual World on the internet. The Arcala radio station is the first-ever amateur radio station to be active in Virtual Reality.
Millions of computer-minded youngsters gather there daily in an easy-going leisure mood. The overall Radio Arcala strategy is spelled out on the OH8X Webpages but one of the key buttons - ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S TERMS - is still to be drafted. Read all about in detail at their homepage: http://www.radioarcala.com <http://www.radioarcala.com> We now challenge members of our fraternity of all ages to draft the text for this button in a way that is both appealing and informative enough to encourage today's youth to take the step we once took.

EME Expedition towards Montenegro (JN92HJ) in May/June 2009
We like to know how many people need Montenegro, 4O on 432 MHz.
Because 4O/OK1DFC was QRV last year and he made about 30 QSO's I heard, we like to know if this DXCC is "wanted" or not. Activity seems not be very high on 70cm... IF we bring a 70cm, rig with us it will be maximum: 4 x 16el. yagi's: 21 dBd and 700 - 800 Watt.
Please let me know : WHO NEED 4O !!! If no 70cm, maybe 6 mtr. will be an option.. Best 73's, Chris, PA2CHR All details of these

LATEST NEWS from Hermann, DL2NUD, dated 2009-02-15 about H40 Trip All preparations are going on well - until now the plan to gets qrv will be going on... The Team have had to decide to take an other small island (Pigeon) instead of the first target (Latha) but that will not depence the DXCC-Status H40...

Dear friends, We have updated our homepage with the photos of our
http://www.hb9q.ch/photo/main.php?g2_itemId=3223) On the DXpedition page we have also updated the logs with the QSLs we already have received. The V5-QSL are ordered and should arrive in about 3 weeks.

As soon as we get them we will send out the QSLs to all we already got the QSL from. vy 73 Dan, HB9CRQ/KT6Q www.hb9q.ch
